

Features of modern global economic development

*L. Sichevliuk, PhD in Economics, Associate Professor of Economic Theory Department, «KROK» University
arsenal-vas@ukr.net*

*M. Hofmann, PhD in Economics, Associate Professor of Economic Theory Department,, «KROK» University
myroslavahofmann@gmail.com*

Research Methodology. Using a systematic approach the contradictory position of the global economic environment in Ukraine is investigated, which stipulates the necessity to implement the adequate transformation and modernization of the national economic development strategy. Not only national characteristics of socio-economic relations and market mechanisms, but also a trend of the world, global market, which requires a number of relevant theoretical and economic researches, should be taken into account.

Results. The processes of the modern global economic development, including Ukraine's role in these processes, are generalized and evaluated analytically.

Novelty. The aim of the article is to provide a generalized characteristics of the modern global economic development. Reflection of specific modern characteristics of economic future of Ukraine is provided.

The practical significance. On the basis of the implemented research the following important features of the modern global economic development, that have to be taken into account in the process of the strategy creation of the economic future of Ukraine, can be highlighted: radical changining of the content of world economic relations, changing of the direction and structure of international trade, qualitative restructuring of the financial sphere, rising up of the role and significance of global capital, reinforcing of orientation of the developed economies on expanding of all spheres of human activities.