

Information economy theory and information economy development in Ukraine

*S. Dubyktivskiy, aspirant of first-year of study, Department of international economy, «KROK» University
stas.d76@gmail.com*

Research Methodology. By means of the historical-genetic approach the evolution of the conceptual views of the information society study and information economy was analyzed. By means of comparison method, the regulatory and legislative levels the actual state of development of the information economy of Ukraine is estimated.

Results. Formation of information economy theory of the country is analysed. Generalization is done concerning development of information economy in Ukraine.

Novelty. The stages of theory of information economy formation are determined. Pre-conditions of information economy formation are evaluated in Ukraine.

The practical significance. Received results will contribute to perfection of normative legal base of information society development. It will contribute to the increase of national economy competitiveness.