

Essence and Significance of Diagnostics of Economic Security in Enterprises Activity

*A. Pазieieva, senior teacher of department of Economy and Enterprise Management,
«KROK» University
PazeevaA@bigmir.net*

Research methodology. The complex of general scientific methods was used in research: comparative analysis of scientific, educational and methodical literature on the issue of research; system analysis, methods of generalization and logical grounding of concepts.

Results. By means of the conducted analysis scientific alternative viewpoints in relation to essence of «diagnostics», «economic diagnostics», «economic security», «economic security of enterprise» and «diagnostics of economic enterprise» concepts are investigated. The issues of essence of enterprise economic security diagnostics in scientific researches, the results of which allowed to point author formulation of essence of «diagnostics of economic security in enterprise activity» concept, are analyzed.

Novelty. Theoretical viewpoints in relation to understanding of «diagnostics» and «economic diagnostics of enterprise» concepts are offered. On the basis of it the generalized author concept «diagnostics of economic security of enterprise» appears to be a difficult multilevel hierarchical and polistructural system, which includes the complex of actions in relation to an exposure and determination of reasons of rejections, from the set norms of protection of enterprise business processes and timely protection from internal and external threats, which are provided by the system of measures of special legal, economic, organizational, information–technical and social character.

Practical significance. The conducted research allowed to carry out clarification of the modern understanding of essence «diagnostics of economic security of enterprise». The approach to understanding of concept is offered that will enable in more details to conduct research of diagnosticating of constituents of economic security and expose its essence and value for modern security science.