

Characteristics of the international financial institutions activity in the Ukraine market

*V.A. Melnyk, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Management of the activity and logistics Department
«KROK» University
Melnikva_2010@mail.ru*

Research Methodology: Investigation of the interaction of various financial institutions in the Ukrainian market was carried out with the use of elements of the method of scientific knowledge. Results and performance of the activity of international financial institutions in Ukraine was investigated by means of economic and statistical methods.

Results: The current state of cooperation between national and international financial institutions and their role in the development of the financial market of Ukraine were analyzed. The evaluation of basic program and the results of the activities of international financial institutions in Ukraine were done. The analysis of the problems of international financial organizations and the possible consequences of such activities were done too.

Novelty: Characteristics of the activity of various forms of national financial institutions such as commercial banks, insurance companies, businesses, public administrations on the international financial markets were evaluated. The expediency and the prospects for further cooperation between such institutions and international financial institutions and commercial entities were evaluated.

The practical significance: Conclusions about the further areas of cooperation with international financial institutions and development of new forms of such cooperation for the management of all the units, that are the borrowers in the international financial market, were done.