

The formation of the countries economic security models in the information society

*S.L. Dubykevskiy, External PhD Student of Financial and Economic Security Management Department, “KROK” University
stas.d76@gmail.com*

Research Methodology. Using the historical-genetic approach the evolution of formation of the countries economic security models in the information society was analyzed.

Results. The features of the genesis of the countries with the information economy models were analyzed. The generalized characteristics of an optimal model of development of the country with the information economy was formed.

Novelty. The model of social and economic development of the countries with the information economy as the best model of the country economic security was defined.

The practical significance. The results will contribute to the improvement of developments of the secure national models of development of the information society countries. This will contribute to the increasing of the competitiveness of national economies and improve the quality of life.