

Technology Parks as a Tool to Ensure State Economic Security

O. V. Vovchenko, Postgraduate Student of the Center for Scientific and Technological Potential and Science History Studies named after H. M. Dobrov NAS of Ukraine lena_vovchenko@ukr.net

Research Methodology. With the help of methods of theoretical generalization, analysis and synthesis the tendencies and problems at the modern stage of development of technoparks in the context of state economic security.

Results. There has been analyzed the role of technology parks in the provision of certain parameters of state economic security and the problems of the current state of existing technology parks and there has been identified their potential as a tool for economic security ensuring.

Novelty. It is suggested to consider the innovations as the main tool of influence on mechanisms of state economic security ensuring. With the help of technology parks there can be created a joint international enterprise that would ensure the development of the region/state.

The practical significance. Based on the conducted studies there has been performed the analysis of socio-economic efficiency of technology parks as a tool to ensure economic security. The main findings can be used in the process of improving of the strategy and tactics of state policy on regional integration and participation of small and medium enterprises in this process involving scientific potential.